Each tower holds a bank of 18 lights to illuminate Nimitz for night Naval Academy Preparatory School (NAPS) athletics; Morale, Welfare and Recreation Dept. sports events, evening and early morning drill practice; and military instruction. The lighting was included in the contract for the new $19.2 million Fitness Complex replacing Gym 109 on Coasters' Harbor Island.

Mosquito-borne EEE can be deadly

By KATLYN ESTRADA
NHCNE Preventive Medicine

Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) is a very rare, but sometimes serious illness that causes inflammation of the brain. It is transmitted via the bite of an infected mosquito and it cannot be transmitted from human to human. Most cases occur in the Atlantic Gulf region.

People most at risk are those who work outdoors or who are frequently in wooded areas, especially near swamps.

The Massachusetts

Department of Public Health (DPH) and Rhode Island Department of Health last month announced the region's first human case of Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) this year.

The patient, an unidentified male in his 20s from Portsmouth, is listed in critical condition. His exposure in early August to a mosquito carrying EEE likely occurred in the southeastern section of Massachusetts that has been identified as an area of elevated

Patriot Day ceremonies to remember 9/11 losses

The Naval War College (NWC) will hold a memorial ceremony today at noon at the Patriot Day Memorial near McCarty-Little Hall to honor those persons lost at the Pentagon during the terrorist attacks on Sept. 11, 2001. The event specifically honors the three NWC students and seven alumni who perished that day.

Members of the DeConto family of Sandwich, Mass., who lost a family member during the attacks, will attend the ceremony. Raymond DeConto will be the primary speaker and will reflect on the loss of his brother and honoree, Capt. Gerald DeConto, and the meaning that the annual commemoration has for the family.

Professor John Jackson and Capt. Steven Senteio, representatives of the War College, will also be guest speakers at the service.

The memorial will include the laying of a wreath as well as a bell ringing ceremony performed by the Newport area chief petty officer selectees to honor those who perished nine years ago.

The War College's 9/11 Memorial was built with funds donated through the NWC Foundation. The memorial includes a shaft of shattered limestone from the east façade of the Pentagon, upon which are inscribed the names of the honorees.

The ceremony is open to NWC students, staff and faculty. Naval Station Newport personnel are also invited to attend and are encouraged to park at the Officers' Club. The appropriate attire is the prescribed uniform of the day.

War College student to speak at Hispanic Heritage Month

By BOB KREKORIAN
NAVSTA Public Affairs Staff

Naval Station (NAVSTA) Newport will observe Hispanic Heritage Month on Thursday, Sept. 23, at 2 p.m., in the Building 690 Atrium. The theme for the 2010 observance is Heritage, Diversity, Integrity and Honor: The Renewed Hope of America.

Cmdr. Mery-Angela S. Katson, a student at the Naval War College (NWC), is the scheduled guest speaker.

She enlisted under the Navy's Delayed Entry Program in 1981. Upon graduation from boot camp in Orlando, she was assigned as a deck seaman aboard the auxiliary ship USS Point Loma (AGDS 2) where she earned the Enlisted Surface Warfare Specialty qualification.

Cmdr. Katson is a graduate of the Broaden Opportunity for Officer Selection and Training (BOOST) program, San Diego. She is a graduate of the Navy ROTC program at the University of San Diego where she earned a bachelor's degree in psychology. She was commissioned an ensign in May 1991.

She completed the Surface Warfare Officer Basic Course, Coronado. She served as the communications officer aboard the destroyer tender USS Aca-

Museum exhibit space reorganized

By JOHN W. KENNEDY
NWC Director of Museum Education and Public Outreach

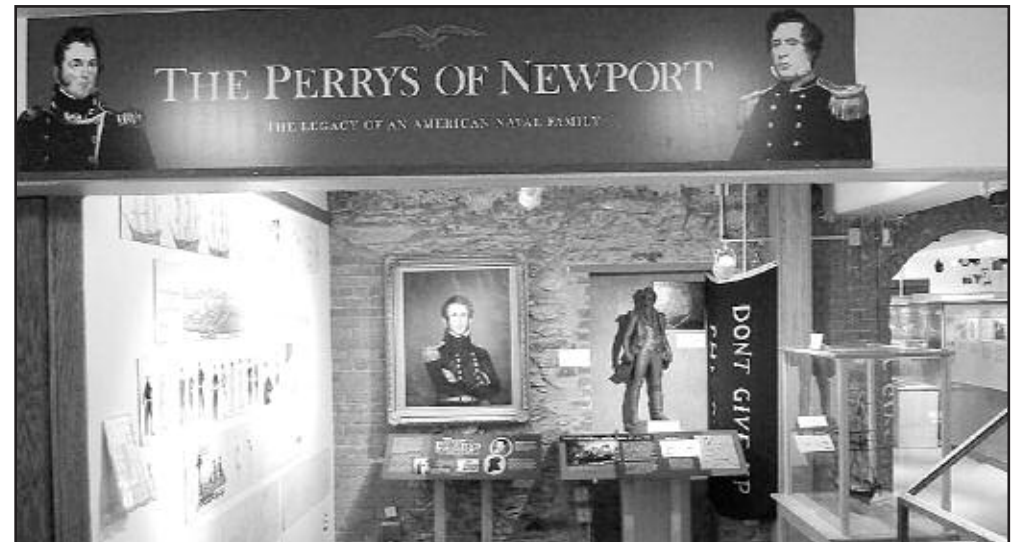

With the mission of collecting, preserving and interpreting artifacts and other historically significant items on the naval history of Narragansett Bay, the Naval War College Museum over the last year has re-organized the different galleries so that the story can be better told.

New exhibits, new carpet, and a new gift shop are just a few of the changes.

As patrons step inside, they will see that the route through the museum has changed. It begins to the left with the Colonial period and progresses through the Revolutionary War in a clockwise pattern.

Some of the new artifacts are recently donated, such as a 1781 Des Barres chart of Narragansett Bay which details the various ships burned by the British as they prepared for the French fleet's arrival.

Visitors segue into the exhibit featuring artifacts taken off those ships, which are on loan from the Rhode Island Historical Preservation and Heritage Commission. Surrounding this exhibit are panels highlighting the paintings of

Top junior officer earns recognition

By LISA W. RAMA
NAVSTA Public Affairs Officer

PORTSMOUTH — The Newport County Council Navy League of the United States and Rotary Club of Portsmouth last week honored Lt. David C. Hollon as the Junior Officer of the Year for 2009 from Newport naval commands.

The community organizations held their recognition dinner on Aug. 31 at the Valley Inn on West Main Road.

Hollon, of the Surface Warfare Officers School Command (SWOSCOLCOM), was selected earlier this year by an executive officer board consisting of the commands that submitted an officer for the award.

Lt. Hollon is currently a student, but was nominated for actions as a damage control and safety/material readiness instructor – a position normally filled by a commander.

Lt. Hollon is a fully qualified master training specialist and was the subject matter expert for 33 Damage Control and Material Readiness lessons for students ranging from recent Officer Candidate School graduates to Prospective Commanding Officers, providing superb instruction to over 200 Prospective Department Head students; 200 Surface Warfare Officer Indoctrination students; 100 Prospective Commanding Officers and 50 Damage Control Assistant students.

He continued with his passion for training during his off duty time volunteering over 200 hours as an assistant football coach and mentor for students at the Naval Academy Prep School.

"A model naval officer, he has continually proven himself as an exceptional leader and role model," wrote Capt. Neil Parrott, Commanding Officer of SWOSCOLCOM in his award submission.

Lt. Hollon was presented with proclamations and gifts from Councilman Jim Seveney of the Portsmouth Town Council, and Councilwoman Teresa Santos of the Middletown Town Council. The Navy League partners with various civic groups each year to hold these dinners in honor of the Junior Officer, Junior Enlisted and Blue Jacket of the Year from the Newport naval complex.

In addition to official proclamations, local business also recognized the recipient.

Lt. Hollon was presented with gift certificates to many local restaurants, for services and entertainment venues, a framed photo from the Navy League President Anne Hout, wine from the local vineyards, and a coffee table book presented by Navy League New England Region President George Wardwell.

Hollon also received a Memory Book of comments, congratulations and proclamations from local, state and federal officials in his home town and home state of Ohio.

Fleet and Family Support Center

Get guidance at career crossroads

EDITOR'S NOTE: Some of the Fleet and Family Support Center workshops and meetings require registration. Call 841-2283.

Are you at a crossroads in your career and wondering about decisions that will affect your future?

Career Options and Navy Skills Evaluation Program (CONSEP) is scheduled at the Fleet and Family Support Center for Sept. 13 to 16, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This four-day seminar is geared toward mid-career level service members (with six to 12 years of service). The curriculum is divided into four parts: self-assessment, personal financial planning, Navy career options, and civilian career planning.

The CONSEP course can help you answer some of these questions: How can I make the most of my Navy assignments? Should I further my education? Am I competitive with my civilian counterparts? How can I plan now for my retirement? Where do I want to be five years from now?

If you have ever pondered any of these questions, then CONSEP is right for you! Civilian attire is appropriate for this seminar. Please bring a copy of your credit report for your use in the class.

HELPFUL VIDEOS — Fleet and Family Support Center videos are offered twice a day at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m., seven days a week over Newport Naval Cable Television channel 13. The specialized videos are designed to help military members and their families with the frequent challenges and problems of daily life.

Homebuyers' Workshop — Purchasing a home is a complex task. There are many questions that need to be answered before you take that big step. Come to the FFSC on Wednesday, Sept. 22, 6 to 8 p.m. and learn about your options and how to decipher real estate lingo.

You will meet with a representative from the Navy Federal Credit Union to hear first-hand about qualifications for mortgages and other financial options. Home-buying information for all areas of the United States is available at this workshop.

Reading Your Credit Report — Learn about information on credit reports at the FFSC on Tuesday, Sept. 28, 2:30 to 4 p.m.

Credit reports are used not only by banks, loan companies, and credit card companies, but also by rental property agencies, potential employers, and can be part of a job security clearance process. Bring a copy of your credit report, available at www.annual-

Not all ID cards treated equally

There are many great benefits to working and having access to Naval Station (NAVSTA) Newport, but sometimes there is confusion as to who is entitled to use which facilities once through the main gate.

NAVSTA is open to all individuals in receipt of officially issued Department of Defense Identification cards. By virtue of having entry, however, does NOT entitle an individual to use all facilities. Below is a listing of the types of ID cards issued and what they entitle the individual to use:

Active Duty Common

Access Card (CAC) – issued to active duty members and reserve (drilling). This card grants access privileges to medical services; Newport Commissary; the Navy Exchange (NEX) and all Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) facilities. These personnel are also entitled to use the Ney Hall galley (only active duty military and DoD civilians on orders are entitled to eat at the galley).

DD Form 2 ACT (green card) – issued to inactive ready reserves. Grants access to the Commissary;

NEX and all MWR facilities.

DD Form 1173-1 (red card) – issued to reserve dependents. Grants access to the Commissary; NEX and all MWR facilities.

DD Form 1173 (tan card)

– issued to active duty and active duty reserve dependents. Grants access to medical; Commissary; NEX and all MWR facilities

DD Form 2RET (blue/tan) – issued to all retired military members. Grants access to medical, Commissary, NEX and all MWR facilities.

DoD Civilian Employee ID card – issued to Department of Defense civilian employees. Grants access to all MWR facilities. DoD civilians are not entitled to use the Commissary, NEX or Ney Hall galley (unless on official orders to the base).

DoD Contractor ID card – similar in appearance to the DoD civilian ID card, but with a green stripe, is issued to contractors. Contractors are entitled to use all Category B and C facilities (Auto Skills Center; Bowling Center; Harbor Island Conference Center; Leisure Bay/ITT Office; Officers' Club; Outdoor Recreation Rental, and tennis courts.) Contractors are not authorized to use the fitness facilities nor Naval Station Newport Marina.

DoD Civilian Retired ID card – similar in appearance to the DoD Civilian ID cards, but does not include a security chip. The card entitles the holder access to the base and the Morale, Welfare and Recreation Category B and C facilities, plus the Marina.

These individuals are not entitled to decals for their vehicles and must obtain a pass each time they visit.

Retirees will be issue an SF50 documenting their retirement which is necessary for them to be issued this ID card.

Navy budget challenge: serve nation with less

By LISA W. RAMA
NAVSTA Public Affairs Officer

"Our challenge is how do we change the way we do business to keep the level of service up with less money?"

This was the resounding theme of last Thursday's Naval Station Newport All Hands Call with Commander, Naval Installations Command Vice Adm. Michael Vitale at Perry Hall. Vitale was onboard NAVSTA Newport to speak at the Senior Enlisted Academy graduation last Thursday night at the Officers' Club.

While in Newport, CNIC toured the installation which has undergone significant changes since the announcement of the Base Realignment And Closure (BRAC) 2005 decisions. Capt. Joe Voboril, NAVSTA Commanding Officer, provided an update on the alternative energy projects under consideration by the base and escorted Vitale around the installation which is still in the midst of transformation. Stops along the tour included the construction site of a new fitness center, the recently completed Navy Supply Corps School and a drive by the U.S. Army Reserve Center which is scheduled for completion in October, 2011.

The "All Hands" call provided an opportunity for CNIC to meet with the military and civilians assigned to Naval Station Newport.

For nearly an hour, Vitale provided insight into his thoughts regarding the way ahead for the Navy; the impact reduced funding is going to continue to have on operations and manning; and the challenges that face the Navy as a service.

"I predict reduced funding in defense, and it doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure that out," he said during his general overview.

He took questions from the audience on a variety of issues: reduced shore assignments for Sailors; the future of PSD's; the impact force protection regulations have on the cost of construction; the Navy's backing of alternative energy

Announcements

Regatta welcomes volunteers

The Surface Warfare Officers School Command is seeking volunteers to assist with the upcoming Special Olympics Rhode Island Regatta that will be Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 18 and 19, at the Morale, Welfare and Recreation Marina at Naval Station Newport.

Special Olympians in sailing crews from Rhode Island, Virginia and Maryland will compete on Narragansett Bay.

The point of contact is Chief Aaron Gordon at aaron.m.gordon1@navy.mil; cellular phone (619) 606-2515; or office: (401) 841-3295. Volunteers are welcome to contact him directly.

Flu shot supply coming soon

Naval Health Clinic New England anticipates it will receive the seasonal flu vaccine between mid to late September. The only way to be protected from influenza is to get the vaccine. This year one injection contains both H1N1 and seasonal flu protection.

Find a job at RecruitMilitary Expo

FOXBORO, Mass. — RecruitMilitary Opportunity Expo, a free employment, entrepreneurship and educational opportunity event for veterans who are transitioning from active duty, reserves and the National Guard, and military spouses, will be Thursday, Oct. 7 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Gillette Stadium at 1 Patriot Place.

RecruitMilitary is a military-to-civilian recruiting firm founded to facilitate the transition of military into the civilian workforce. The expo is in cooperation with The American Legion; Purple Heart Services; and the Military Spouse Corporate Career Network (MSCCN).

For more info or to register as a job-seeker, visit <http://www.recruitmilitary.com>

Wedding gowns given away

WAKEFIELD, R.I. — A military bride wedding dress giveaway will take place Thursday, Sept. 30, from 5 to 7 p.m. at Chameleon's Consignment Loft in Wakefield.

To qualify for the dress giveaway, as well as other special wedding related items, individuals must be engaged; must be able to show proper military ID or a copy of the fiancée's military ID; and either the future bride or groom must be on active duty.

Individuals who were married by a justice of the peace and are planning an upcoming wedding, are also qualified. For more information e-mail operationwedding-dress@cox.net or call Mariann at (401) 792-9194.

Backup Quarterback Kody Akers (11) drives in for the Naval Academy Prep School's only score in the Rams' game against Dean College last Saturday.

NAPS takes loss in opener, 21-6

The Naval Academy Prep School football team knew its season opener against Dean College of Franklin, Mass., could be the toughest on the schedule, and unfortunately they were right.

The Rams lost, 21-6, last Saturday on Nimitz Field.

Running back Noah Copeland was the offensive MVP for the game, rushing for 52 yards on 10 carries, while racking up six knock-downs.

After NAPS starting quarterback Greg Bryant suffered a sprained ankle, backup signal-caller Kody Akers entered the game and ran for 83 yards on nine carries, while also leading NAPS on its only touch-down drive.

Running back Reuben Carson had NAPS' only touchdown, which came on a six-yard scamper late in the third quarter. Defensively, defensive linebacker Kenneth Dickie was named the MVP with eight solo tackles, with three that cost Dean yardage; plus five assists, and two quarterback sacks with one assist.

NAPS travels to Annapolis today to face Milford Academy.

risk, officials said.

A pool of mosquitoes tested in a site in Westerly recently tested positive for EEE, according to the Rhode Island Department of Health. Between 1964 and 2008 in Rhode Island, only five known cases of EEE were confirmed.

Signs and symptoms of EEE appear two to 10 days after exposure. They include sudden headaches, fevers, chills or night sweats, and/or vomiting after being bitten by a mosquito.

If you experience these symptoms please report to the nearest MTF (medical treatment facility) for further evaluation.

DEET insect repellent (no more than 30 percent concentration) is suggested as the best means to deter mosquito bites (do not use on infants). If interested in acquiring some DEET lotion (limited quantities available) or obtaining further information, call the NHCNE Preventive Medicine Department at (401) 841-6174.

dia (AD 42). In 1994, she reported to the U.S. Naval Academy where served as a company officer and was an adjunct instructor in Naval Leadership and Ethics, and Basic Shipboard Tactics and Maneuvering.

She graduated the Naval Postgraduate School in May 1998 with a master's degree in Manpower Systems Analysis. Upon graduation she reported to Naval Support Activity, Naples, where she served as the installation's administrative and manpower officer.

Later in her career, she reported as executive officer of the Navy Recruiting District, San Antonio, in August 2007; and later became the district's Commanding Officer in July 2008.

Cmdr. Katson reported to the NWC last February.

synchronize the processes that are used throughout the regions using the most efficient and effective and continued innovation.

"How do we capture the great ideas so we can get these ideas together to make improvements?" the admiral asked, then went on to discuss briefly the use of automation and the World Wide Web. "We are doing exceptionally well. The dynamic is that we're going to shrink, we're going to change and you will figure out a way (to provide excellent service with less).

Vitale also spent time at the Naval War College with Rear Adm. Phil Wisecup, president, touring the college's Military Construction (MILCON) projects.

fame at the Battle of Lake Erie and by opening trade with Japan in the "Black Ships," respectively. Highlighting this area are digitized versions of the Black Ship Scrolls that have been reproduced on Dibond. The original scrolls, on loan from the Preservation Society of Newport County, were on rice paper and not on display.

From 1861 until 1865, the Naval Academy was transferred from Annapolis, Md., to Newport because of the Civil War. Housed in the Atlantic Hotel, the students learned their craft through study and application, and practiced their techniques in Touro Park.

Two of the instructors were Lt. Cmdr. Stephen B. Luce and Lt. Alfred Thayer Mahan. Many of the midshipmen who attended the Naval Academy during this timeframe went on to make a name for themselves as they assumed roles of greater responsibility.

The changes described above pertain only to the first floor, center gallery. In all, there are six galleries in the museum and more changes are scheduled.

The Naval War College Museum is open weekdays from 10a.m. until 4:30p.m. Additionally, until the end of September, the Museum is open from noon until 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Admission is free. Those without a DOD sticker are asked to call 841-2101/4052 for directions and instructions for visiting.
